

Where to see a psychic on Long Island

BY SYLVIA E. KING-COHEN

sylvia.king-cohen@newsday.com

In uncertain times, we're all looking for answers. Some turn to a financial adviser, some to clergy and others to clairvoyants. If you're the latter, experts say the best thing you can bring to a session with a psychic is an open mind. You may also want to bring a recording device, notepad or someone else as a backup to hear what you miss -- if the psychic agrees. Here are some psychics on Long Island:

Jeffrey Wands: Psychic Eye Media, 8 Haven Ave., Suite 223, Port Washington, 516-883-5959, jeffreywands.com

KNOWN FOR: In addition to authoring "Another Door Opens" (Atria, 2006, $22) and "The Psychic in You" (Pocket Books, 2005, $14.95), Wands hosts a radio show and also appears regularly on WALK 97.5's "Breakfast Club" with Mark and Mindy. "When I'm on the radio, questions go from careers to love," Wands says. "I bridge the gap from here to the spirit world and close that bridge or allow clients to say goodbye to a loved one."

WHERE TO SEE: Call Wands (631-955-9750) 10 p.m.-midnight Sundays during his radio show or 6-10 a.m. on the first Friday of the month. He's hosting a gallery-style dinner show and reading March 16 at the Boulton Center in Bay Shore ($35, 37 W. Main St., boultoncenter.org). Private readings are $175 per half-hour.

Robert E. Hansen: 3888 Merrick Rd., Seaford, 516-868-7778, robertehansen.com

KNOWN FOR: Hansen says he communicates with people who have died. In a group setting, he focuses on delivering messages from beyond, rather than answer questions from the living. He also works with special-needs children to help them communicate with those around them.

WHERE TO SEE: Hansen appears at 7 p.m. Jan. 28 at Governor's Comedy Club in Levittown ($29, 90 Division Ave., 516-731-3358, govs.com). He's also hosting a workshop in Seaford 7 p.m. Feb. 28 ($39 advance purchase, personal reading not guaranteed). Private readings from $300 per half hour.

Cindi Sansone-Braff: 631-475-4266, grantmeahigherlove.com

COST: $75 per hour individual, workshop fees vary by hosting group.

KNOWN FOR: Called the "romance whisperer," this Patchogue-based psychic says she conducts conversations with the dead. "Not all love is created equally," she says. "Some love is toxic or lukewarm love. There also is soulmate love."

WHERE TO SEE: You can find Sansone-Braff at occasional Thursday evening group workshops hosted at The Blue Firmament Holistic Center in Rockville Centre ($30, 202 Merrick Rd., 516-665-3641). She also hosts psychic night from 6 to 9 p.m. each third Wednesday of the month at Union Restaurant in Smithtown, where dinner and a reading costs $60 (155 W. Main St., 631-265-3300, unionstationrestaurantsmithtown.com).

The Rev. Neil MacPherson: 516-541-0180, revneiltarotmancer.com

COST: $25 per 15 minutes

KNOWN FOR: "I'm a real question-and-answer psychic, about a blue-collar as you get," says MacPherson, adding that many clients come to him for money and relationship issues. Trained in Chinese medicine, he also answers health questions.

WHERE TO SEE: You can find Massapequa-based MacPherson for readings several days a week at Dreams East in Sea Cliff (359 Sea Cliff Ave., 516-656-4790, dreamseast.com). He also appears 8-10 p.m. Thursdays at Spoon Coffeehouse in Lindenhurst (125A Wellwood Ave., 631-957-7666), though advance appointments are recommended.

Stacey Gunnard: Ohm in the Home, 18 Candee Ave., Sayville, 631-589-3044

COST: $60 for 30 minutes

KNOWN FOR: Gunnard, who has been a spiritualist more than 20 years, also speaks on "The Secret" (Rhonda Byrne, Atria, 2006, $23.95), and teaches classes on the law of attraction: What you focus on is what you attract into your life. She says she will use runes, tarot cards or give a straight reading.

WHERE TO SEE: By appointment only in her store. One Sunday a month she hosts a free open house.

Josephine Ghiringhelli: 631-698-4089, josephineg.com

KNOWN FOR: Ghiringhelli specializes in connecting people with loved ones who have died. She also helps individuals resolve issues -- thought that's by telling you what she's directed, not answering specific questions you may have.

WHERE TO SEE: Ghiringhelli appears 6-10 p.m. tomorrow and alternating Tuesdays at Babylon Carriage House's psychic night, which includes a buffet and possible reading for $59.95 plus tax and gratuity. (21 Fire Island Ave., 631-422-5161, babyloncarriagehouse.com).

com).

Shirley Delmaro: 606 Montauk Hwy., Suite B, Bayport, 631-472-1800

COST: $45 for 30 minutes

KNOWN FOR: Spiritual guidance, assistance with overcoming obstacles. Delmaro says she tries to help her clients identify their negative energy and help them learn how to "get out of their own way."

WHERE TO SEE: Through appointment only.

Copyright 2009 Newsday Inc.